COURSE OVERVIEW

Grade 9 students focus on the opportunities and challenges at the core of Canada's contemporary plurality. They begin with an overview of Canada today, including its demographics, geography, and political organization. They examine the evolving stories of interaction among the people of Canada, and the influence of the land on the development of Canada. They explore the historical and contemporary complexities of citizenship and identity, considering the challenges and opportunities that emerge when groups with differing identities and perspectives interact with one another. Contemporary Canadian questions and issues are examined within the global context. Students are given opportunities to explore how they may become involved in Canadian issues. Through this inquiry, they are enabled to become informed decision makers actively involved in their local, national, and global communities.

CLUSTER GOALS

Cluster 1 - Students examine elements of physical and human geography that affect the political, social, and cultural makeup of Canada. This study includes a focus on demography, human rights, citizenship, conflict resolution, cultural pluralism and diversity, the influence of the media, and the contributions of people in the creation of a pluralistic society. Students examine the roles of various levels of government, government policies, the media, and cultural diversity as they affect the quality of life of Canadians.

Cluster 2 - Students examine the connections among people, government, and law. This study includes a focus on concepts related to the parliamentary process, participation in the electoral process, the justice system, the responsibilities and rights of citizens, and the influence of democratic ideals in the evolution of contemporary Canadian society.

Cluster 3- Students examine the dynamic relationship between having a national identity and being a global citizen in the industrialized world. This study includes a focus on evaluating the role of media in shaping individual or national perspectives relating to global issues, identifying nations and events where Canadian participation is expected for aid and military conflict resolution, assessing Canada's role in global peacekeeping initiatives, and the implications of being a consumer in a globally connected, industrialized society.

Cluster 4- Students explore the demographic factors that have shaped Canada's style of cultural diversity and citizenship from past to present and into the future. This study includes a focus on the effects of social and technological change, societal changes due to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, citizenship issues from the past and present, reactions to social injustice, emerging relationships pertaining to Aboriginal Peoples, and all Canadians' level of commitment to environmental stewardship and sustainability.
