Course Description

Reading is Thinking is a course like no other. World renowned dance choreographer Twyla Tharp says that, “*the two things that will have the greatest impact on you over the next five years are the people that you will meet and what you will read.” A powerful realization if you think about it. People really don't pay that much attention to how they read or what they are doing to make meaning out of a text. Seriously, have you ever spent any time considering how you made sense out of a book, article or video that you have looked at in the past? You've certainly developed a strategy or two over the years to help you with this, but you may be hard-pressed to explain just how you did it. This class aims to take what you know and then expand on it. Reading is Thinking is a course designed to help you improve your skills in reading and thinking critically and creatively.

Course Focus

- ❖ Thinking About Self: Students develop their identities as confident, engaged, and motivated readers within their diverse communities.
- ❖ Thinking About Text: Students develop the characteristics and practices of proficient readers before, during, and after reading within and across disciplines.
- ❖ Thinking About the World: Students will develop critical reading/literacy in order to develop deeper understanding of a variety of texts in order to express and substantiate personal positions and to solve problems, make decisions, resolve conflicts, and take action in their world.

Themes & Units of Study

1. Who am I as a Reader? Different perspectives/lenses Time Period September
2. Reading Strategies: Fiction Questioning, Predicting, Visualizing, Connecting, Experiencing, Clarifying Time Period October
3. Reading Strategies: Non-Fiction Text Features, Text Structures, Making Inferences, Summarizing, Identify Author's Purpose, Bias, Synthesizing Time Period November
4. Final Assessment: Independent Reading: Self-Assessment of Reading Goals and Accomplishments Time Period September-December

Note: Units/Topics are subject to change due to availability of resources, time, or unforeseen events at the discretion of instructor.

Required Materials:

- Loose leaf note paper and a binder (3-4 inch) to keep RIT class work in.
- Pencils & Pens (Blue, Black and Red)
- Pencil Crayons and/or Coloured Markers for Daily & Product work
- Highlighters for the Purpose of Close Reading/Annotation + other required work
- USB Memory stick - must have for the purpose of storing RIT work files and work in progress.
- LAPTOPS MUST BE BROUGHT TO EVERY CLASS
- You are asked to acquire above materials as quickly as possible and bring them with you to EVERY class.

Grading & Assignments Course Work 70% + Final Assessment 30% = 100%

- Your Progress in this course will be charted via observation, conversation and product. There will be a variety of activities and assignments to demonstrate skills in each of the main areas.
- Participation in activities, individual/partner/group, will be necessary for meeting the requirements of this course.
- ANY and ALL WORK (this will include keeping draft copies & pre-writing/pre-thinking copies) that you do in this course NEEDS TO BE KEPT UNTIL THE END OF THE COURSE. This means you will need to be responsible for gathering and keeping your work together.
- Independent Reading will be required as part of this course and used as the Final Assessment for this course. You will be reflecting on your own progress with the Independent Reading component.

Course Requirements

- Regular Attendance is required to demonstrate a consistent and sustained achievement of the outcomes necessary to earn the credit for this course. Regular attendance is defined by our school attendance policy; see Student Handbook.
- Due Dates: It becomes very challenging to track your progress throughout the semester and to understand your true abilities if work is not completed. In order for me to give feedback in a timely manner and to assess fairly, due dates must be respected. If due dates are consistently not adhered to, you will receive a zero (0%) at the reporting periods. Once a reporting period has passed; no previous work will be accepted.
Parents and/or the principal will be contacted if you are not meeting deadlines.
Incomplete work and/or no work hand in on time could result in course failure.
- Attendance and Active Participation are keys to success. Evaluation is based not only on the work you complete but also on Participation which includes (1) Attendance (2) Quality of Preparation (3) Oral Contributions and (4) Other Activity or Lesson-Based Requests.

Classroom Rules & Expectations

1. Come to class Prepared with ALL SUPPLIES.
2. Laptops given to you by the school division will be required to be with you at ALL times. They are now part of the requirement of bringing laptops to class (both for RIT and ELA).
Use the technology in a respectful manner and use laptops for academic purposes only in class.
3. Commit to making the classroom a safe space. This means being respectful of the opinions, ideas, culture, etc. of other members of the class, whether you agree with them or not.
Be respectful of and to the property of others and within this classroom.
4. Respect peers right to learn and work within a safe school environment. This means minimize distractions and time wasted.
5. If you are Absent from class, you are responsible for finding out what you missed (at an appropriate time) and catching up on missed work.
6. If you are Late 3 times for class, it will be considered an unexcused absence. You are expected to be in class when the bell rings, not after it rings. Guardians will be notified after 5 and 10 unexcused absences.
7. Please ensure that your Internet User Agreement has been signed to allow you access to the computer.

Your First Assignment: Due Friday, Sept. 6/2024
